ROBERT B. CRANSTON,
Geo. W. PENHURST,
R. H. HAZARD, Jr., Secy's.

Gov. Anthony, of the Journal, seems to be putting on his high-heeled shoes, and talking "regular 4th of July," on the subject of the "British outrages," preparatory to his debut in the U. S. Senate. The Senator elect seems to be following, at a humble distance, in the wake of those three or four Republican Senators, who not only concur'd with the vociferous war-dogs of the South on this delicate question, but actually "stole their thunder," and both out-bragged and out-generalled the peculiar champions of the Administration.

The Journal thinks that, "right or wrong," the American people will never consent to have their suspected rebels overhauled by British cruisers, on any pretence whatever. No, indeed, says the editor—"they would go to war with all Europe" rather than submit to such indignities.—Phiz-whiz-bang!—Take care of your head, Johnny Bull, Parley vous François, and the rest of you "outside barbarians," beyond the great fish-pond! The Providence Journal & d' forty dozen 4th of July orators will be down upon you, with a whole magazine of pop-guns, in less than no time!

But, seriously, the Ex-Governor, we hope, is not so thoroughly dizzied by his late elevation as not to see that the civilized and sensible world will naturally construe all this foolish swagger into a determination to uphold the foreign slave trade. Such is, indeed, the almost inevitable and necessary inference. Does the Journal desire to stand in such an unenviable position? If not, it should make haste to get out of it, and then save wit enough to keep out of it hereafter.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, June 24, 1858.

MR. EDITOR:—The day on which I last wrote you (Monday, 21st) was not only the longest in the calendar but the warmest we have had this season—the thermometer at 2 P. M., indicating a temperature of 91 degrees in the shade. But the day was marked by a still further incident, of which, at the time I closed my letter, there was not the least intimation.

About 4 P. M., the northern heavens grew suddenly and ominously dark, and a "mighty rushing wind" swept furiously through the city, making sad work with awnings, signs, window blinds, and other light objects. Some few chimneys were prostrated, one or two houses unroofed, the shipping greatly disturbed, and the Church of the Good Shepherd, (the Rev. R. Hoyt's) in 5th street, wholly demolished. But not a life was lost in the city, though several persons were injured by a falling chimney at the Methodist Book Concern, No. 200 Mulberry street. At Hunter's Point, on Long Island, (north end of Williamsburgh) two men were killed in the Flin Glass Works, one wing of which was suddenly hurled into a mass of ruins, burying 20 or 30 of the workmen. All but the two were got out alive, most of them without severe injury. A torrent of rain passed hard on the heels of the tornado. The direction of the gale was south and south-east, and we hear of no small damage up the North River, where, among other things, two steam-boats had their smoke-pipes demolished.

Yacht races are all the rage now-a-days, and to-day a great one is in progress by the vessels of the N. Y. Club, the range to encompass the whole of Long Island, starting at 10 o'clock from the Club House at Hoboken, down through the Bay and Narrows, thence easterly to Montauk Point, and home through the Sound—the vessels of the eastern class first reaching Fort Schuyler at Throg's Neck, to win the prize. The entrance fee is $50—the whole aggregate to form two sweepstakes prizes, of equal amount, one for sloops, and one for cutters.—Down to last evening, nine vessels were entered for the race—among them the Favola, Haze, Julieca, Madrigal, Una, &c. The whole distance to be sailed cannot be less than 250 miles, and there is much speculation as to the shortest time in which any of the whole fleet will be able to accomplish it. If sagacious-minded folks bet money on the result, it will not be surprising.

The Broadway Theatres are mostly closed, but Charlotte Cushman is trying to raise the dust at Nibby's, in spite of the season. Rather an up-hill business, even for Charlotte, at this time of year. There is also a faint and feeble effort to keep up operatic performances at the Academy of Music; but I cannot see that drowsiness needs any such appliances in this sort of weather. That it will not be obviated and conquered by them, must be manifest.—By the way, Mr. Manager Ullman, of the Academy Opera, and the Hon. City Judge Russell, have been indicted for "kicking up a bobby" about the admission of Mr. Dacey, reporter for the "Spirit of the Times," a while ago.

Rather a brilliant parade of the Metropolitan Police, to the number of some 630, took place yesterday in the Park, where they were reviewed by Mayor Pierpont and Gov. King. The organization presents certainly a very fine, intelligent looking, handsome body of men. About one-third of the force were necessarily on duty—the whole number now enrolled being something like 1,000.—A parade of the Brooklyn police was also had yesterday, the Governor attending there likewise.

Mr. M. S. Beach, proprietor of The Sea newspaper, seems to have achieved a signal triumph over all competitors in the improvement of the cylinder printing machine—he having now in operation at his office a press which gives a handsome and rapid impression on both sides! This is a point the attainment of which has long been sought by printers, and Mr. B. has studied it and worked hard for it a good while.—That he has found it, seems certain. Multitudes have already witnessed the operation, and all deem it a complete success.—Mr. B. proposes to add to his press a cutting, folding and counting apparatus,—which, when completed, cannot leave much in that line to be desired.

I am glad to hear that your good little city of Newport, and its delightful surroundings, have survived the "wrath of Achilles," and are attracting many of our citizens thither this season. I suspect they would be puzzled to find a more comfortable place, about these days, with the mercury here up "among the nineties." The kind and constant attentions, the pleasant rooms, and good cheer of "mine host," at that old favorite stopping-place of New Yorkers—the BELLEVUE Hotel in Newport—I hear highly extolled by those who have tried them.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Late Accident on the Long Island Railroad.

It appeared before the coroner's inquest and from other sources, that Mr. Farnsworth, at the time of the accident, had been walking from Jamaica, on the road, for three-quarters of an hour, during which time he had proceeded easterly from that place about three miles. The engineer saw him when he was about a mile distant. At that time he was walking with his head down apparently unconscious of the approach of the train. The cars were moving at the rate of nine or ten miles per hour.

The engineer did not blow the whistle until the engine was within one hundred feet of Mr. H. At that time Mr. H. was walking in the centre of the track and immediately turned to cross the rail, but caught his toe and stumbled, and was falling when he was struck and instantly killed by the engine.

The noticeable fact in the testimony of the engineer is, that from the rate of speed at which the train was moving, there were but seven seconds for a man who apparently had no previous warning of the approach of the train to make good his escape from the track.

THE CIRCUS.—The Company which performed here yesterday and the evening previous, was superior in many important particulars to most that have preceded it. There were many points of the performance that were really interesting; the astonishing feats of equestrianism, the sagacity of the trained Steele, and even the aptitudes of the clown, were many of them suggestive of a moral; though some other of his sayings partook too much of low vulgarity for any audience, especially one composed in part of ladies. This is the great complaint with all such exhibitions, and forms the principal basis of objection in the minds of respectable people, who would patronize them to a greater extent were it not for this very thing. We hope to see the time when the circus will be purged of these objections, and thus become a place of amusement for all classes.

THE EXTRA SESSION.—The U. S. Senate, called for the President and the pressing exigencies of the public service (when?) seems to have come to a speedy if not untimely end. Senator Douglas spent pretty much all the first day, rapping the old fagies over the head and knuckles; the second day they confirmed a dozen or twenty collectors, postmasters, &c., and then adjourned sine die. A most important session!—Wonder if the honorable Senators will have the conscience to claim extra mileage for this extraordinary session?

A RENT.—In the attic of the State House in this city, is the Pillory used fifty years or more ago for the punishment of offenders against the laws. It is simply a board some ten or twelve feet long, opening laterally through its entire length, with perforations for the neck and hands. It was customary to exhibit criminals in this on the Parade, and in some instances crop their ears. Agents wanted.

TREES.—Looking down upon Newport from an elevation, the beholder is struck with the great profusion of trees that adorn every portion of the city, resembling a forest with houses scattered here and there thro' it. These, besides beautifying the streets and affording an agreeable shade, tend to promote health, by rarefying the atmosphere and attracting to themselves noxious vapors exhaled from surrounding objects.

Trees achieve a rapid growth in Newport, a large portion of those that now embellish our streets having been planted within the recollection of many who are living now and in the prime of life. When the noble trees on the Mall in front of the State House were planted it was said by one to a gentleman who was superintending the work, that "these would be noble trees some time, but not in our day." They are noble trees now, and yet both the gentlemen live to behold their beauty and enjoy their shade.—Spare the tree, nurse them, plant others where there is room, and when your head is crowned with years you will be blessed with their grateful shade.

A MISERIOUS EXHIBITION.—Attention is invited in the advertisement of Waugh's Mirror of Italy, to exhibit in this city next week. Major Felch purchased this magnificent picture three or four years ago, and since then has exhibited it in most of the principal cities and towns in the United States. It has been received with unbounded favor everywhere. Let those who would study Italy, and all who admire perfection of art, pay this exhibition a visit.

TOURO PARK.—There is a degree of neglect connected with the management of this Park, which is certainly unaccountable, considering the season of the year, and its prominence as a place of resort for visitors. An attempt has evidently been made at some remote period to repair the walks of these grounds, but from some unexplained cause abandoned, and the heaps of gravel lie precisely where they were dumped at the period referred to. There is evidently a "screw loose" somewhere.

A NEW DIRECTORY.—Our readers will be gratified to learn that a new Directory of Newports is being prepared. It is to be compiled by Mr. William H. Boyd, the gentleman who published the one for 1856-57, whose agent is now in town pursuing the necessary canvas. We trust every facility will be furnished him by our citizens in the prosecution of his work, and that the book will be liberally patronized. It will be issued early in August.

STARTED AGAIN.—We learn that the difficulties between the Coddington Manufacturing Company have been satisfactorily adjusted, and that the help all returned to their work yesterday morning. The working time is now the same as last Fall.

EMMANUEL CHURCH.—Will be re-opened for public worship to-morrow. Morning service at half past ten o'clock. Evening service at four o'clock.

BATHING.—Bathing has commenced at the Beach. Large numbers went over yesterday, and the water has reached its summer temperature.

We are indebted to W. F. Kenny, Esq., Telegraphic Operator here for special favors.

A SUGGESTION.—As there is to be no public celebration of the Fourth here, we would suggest that it would be a good idea for the Eagle's wing to get up an excursion to one of the Elizabeth Islands, for straw-berrying on that day, taking the band along. Should the weather be pleasant, we can think of no prasanter way of being independent, away from the dust and noise of the city.—See Bedford Standard.

As there is to be no public celebration here, either, why not bring your people to Newport, where the two communities might assemble together in one of our halls and cogitate on the old adage of "saving at the spigot and wasting at the hump?"

DIED

In this city, on Thursday evening, the 24th inst. Mrs. Elizabeth, youngest child of Edward L. and Abby H. Fowles, aged 4 years 8 months and 9 days.

Funeral this afternoon at 2.15 o'clock, from No. 10 Green Street. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

Bread for fear of themselves; no repose, manner, no earnestness, no speculation, manner, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this medicine invariably removes—will follow Loss of Power, Faculty, and Epileptic Fits—in one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by a class of diseases of Insanity and Convulsions? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The confinement is actually sudden and quite desolate—neither mirth or grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rare yet singular.

With bold measures was despair.

Low wretched sounds like grief begotten."

Despair is most terrible! and has brought thousands upon thousands to untimely graves, has blighting the ambition of many noble youths. It can be averted by the use of this

If you are suffering with any of the above distressing ailments, the Fluid Extract Buchu will cure you. Try it and be convinced of its efficacy.
